MONSIGNOR BERNARD'S MESSAGE

This Saturday (17th of May) we are holding our parish First Holy Communion with 43 young people receiving the Sacrament for the first time. We have 2 Masses at 11am and 2 pm. Over the past 38 years, I've had literally thousands of children make their First Holy Communion. As I move every closer to retirement, these occasions seem to become more poignant.

For each child, and for each family, these are special moments. A rite of passage on a lifelong journey that doesn't stop until we are united for eternity with Trinity. How many of these young people will still be churchgoers in 10 years' time, is an impossible question to answer. All I do know is that we are planting seeds and we have to wait to see how they develop.

I remember clearly my own First Holy Communion, where I was instructed by my family to pray, particularly for my grandfather who was suffering with heart failure. He died about three weeks later. I didn't really understand when my family said that in many ways it was an answer to prayer. He had always been a variant of person but in his final weeks was bed-bound and his quality of life has been severely eroded.

Just after my First Communion, my paternal grandparents presented me with a cassock and cotter, so that I could become an altar boy. When many years later I went to Seminary, I discovered that only one, out of the 30 in my year, have not been an altar boy.

When as a student at college, I stopped going to church I never imagined that I would end up as a Priest. Even to this day, I still marvel at the generosity of God in not rejecting me even when I appeared to reject him. So, join me in praying for our young people this weekend because we never know where the Lord will lead them and how they will make their mark in the world.

Livesimply Thought for the Week: This week Palestinians have been marking the Nakba, the 77th anniversary of their expulsion from their homeland after the establishment of the Israeli state. We daily see the horror of Gaza since the Israeli government banned all deliveries of food, clean water, fuel and medicines. From the start of the war Pope Francis telephoned the priest at the Holy Family parish in Gaza every evening to assure him of prayers and support. We too can pray for Gazans and all Palestinians and demand that our government cease all deliveries of weapons to Israel and insist on a ceasefire now.
